Strutture della mobilità Feb 26 2020 Le aree dismesse dalle industrie e dalle ferrovie sono qui intese come riserve fondiari utili al rinnovamento e alla riqualificazione delle città, occasioni quindi per riflettere sul rapporto tra città consolidata e nuovi interventi e sui criteri e metodi da seguire nella progettazione di parti urbane e di singoli manufatti. L'area della Stazione Tuscolana, per localizzazione, estensione, unicità della proprietà, presenza di elementi archeologici monumentali, costituisce un caso-studio di straordinario interesse. Per la riconversione di quest'area, da considerare come luogo strategico all'interno del settore orientale romano, è stato proposto un piano-quadro e un progetto generale, che sono stati alla base di successivi approfondimenti in sede di tesi di laurea.

Museum Builders II Jul 21 2019 The popularity of the museum has dramatically increased in recent years and many modern examples have been built around the world. This book catalogues these developments and beautifully presents an exciting selection of the most inspiring examples of contemporary museums around the world. The book that first launched the successful Builders series was Museum Builders in 1994 and since this time there has been an explosion in museum building by some of the world's most famous architects. Instead of trying to update the first edition Wiley-Academy has produced a completely new and updated volume. Following a historical and contemporary assessment of the role of the museum, the author presents, in great photographic detail, the most famous examples of modern museums around the world. Includes work by Frank Gehry, Rem Koolhaas, Daniel Libeskind, Zaha Hadid, Jean Nouvel and others.

New Scapes Nov 17 2021 Since the famous competition for the Park La Villette in Paris where the participants included Bernard Tschumi, Peter Eisenman and Gilles Deleuze, the relationship between building and landscape has been dramatically transformed. Concepts such as metamorphosis and interaction, layers and fields are becoming as much a part of architectonic discourse as the practical designs and the realization. Author Paola Gregory examines this interplay between buildings and landscapes present in today's architecture scene, illustrating her analysis with exciting examples including the ecological landscapes of James Wines and Greg Lynn, the virtual environments of Marcos Novak and Nox, buildings by Jean Nouvel and Toyo Ito which actively incorporate passers-by and surroundings by means of new media.

Forme del vuoto Oct 16 2021 I vuoti che il libro descrive sono spazi prodotti attraverso un processo di sottrazione, che estrae la materia sostituendola con lo spazio. È una modalità compositiva e costruttiva arcaica, riscoperta dal Moderno e utilizzata oggi da molti artisti e architetti contemporanei. Forme del vuoto indaga e ri-conosce i diversi caratteri che questo spazio assume. Esso si colloca tra interno ed esterno, sui bordi, nei luoghi di confine dell'architettura. La sua presenza muta profondamente gli oggetti architettonici, li trasforma in relazionali, capaci di tessere molteplici interazioni con i soggetti che li abitano e con i paesaggi urbani che li circondano, di produrre nuovi significati attraverso la modificazione di tipi e spazi consolidati nella storia dell'architettura e della città, di generare nuove possibilità del sentire. Le diverse forme che il vuoto sottratto assume sono indagate attraverso la descrizione e la rappresentazione diagrammatica delle opere che, messe in sequenza, costruiscono un percorso, dall'interno verso l'esterno, che intende mostrare il progressivo processo di contaminazione dell'oggetto architettonico contemporaneo con il contesto in cui si colloca, la perdita di significato delle tradizionali contrapposizioni pubblico-privato, aperto-chiuso, figura-sfondo e la loro sostituzione con categorie intermedie che rispecchiano la volontà relazionale di molta architettura contemporanea. Heat Transfer XIV May 23 2022 Starting in Portsmouth in 1988, Heat Transfer XIV: Simulation and Experiments in Heat Transfer and its Applications contains the proceedings of the fourteenth conference in the well-established series on Simulation and Experiments in Heat Transfer and its applications. Heat Transfer might be considered as an established and mature scientific discipline, but it has played a major role in new emerging areas such as sustainable development and reduction of greenhouse gases as well as for micro- and nano- scale structures and bioengineering. Tremendous advances have been achieved during recent years due to improved numerical solution methods for non-linear partial differential equations, turbulence modelling advancements and developments of computers and computing algorithms to achieve efficient and rapid simulations. The papers contained in this book present studies on advanced topics, new approaches and applications of innovative advanced computational methods and experimental measurements to heat and mass transfer problems. Further progress in computational methods requires developments in theoretical and predictive procedures and in applied research. The following list covers some of the topics presented: Energy conversion devices; Heat transfer enhancements; Heat exchanges; Natural and forced convection; Radiation; Multiphase flow heat transfer; Modelling and simulation; Heat recovery; Heat and mass transfer problems; Heat transfer in nature; Renewable energy systems; Biotechnology; Thermal electric devices and High temperature heat transfer.

Progetti per paesaggi archeologici - Projets pour paysages archéologiques - Projects for archeological landscapes Jan 19 2022 Il volume illustra la struttura tematica, l'organizzazione didattica, i luoghi e i progetti del seminario internazionale di progetto partecipato ARCILAB12. L'iniziativa organizzata dalla scuola di Architettura dell'Università di Cagliari si è svolta nel 2012 nei centri abitati di Ales, Morgongiori, Pau, Usellus e Villa Verde nell'ambito del programma transfrontaliero Maritimo Italia-Francia ACCESSIT finanziato dalla Regione Sardegna e indirizzato alla definizione di linee guida per i progetti per i paesaggi archeologici sul territorio regionale con specifico riferimento al miglioramento dell'accessibilità del patrimonio culturale. Sono state esplorate le potenzialità della valorizzazione e del miglioramento della fruizione di siti significativi sotto il profilo archeologico e paesaggistico dei territori del monte Arci, attraverso l'elaborazione di un progetto di rete territoriale e la costruzione in scala reale di un prototipo per ognuno dei centri coinvolti. L'obiettivo del seminario consiste in un'esperienza didattica complessa in cui la conoscenza dei luoghi e il progetto trovano sintesi convergendo nella pratica del costruire. Carlo Atzeni È dottore di ricerca in Ingegneria Edile e professore associato di Architettura Tecnica presso il DICAAR dell'Università degli Studi di Cagliari. Alla Facoltà di Ingegneria e Architettura di Cagliari è coordinatore del Corso di Studi in Scienze dell'Architettura; dal 2009 è coordinatore scientifico del workshop internazionale di progetto ARCILAB. I suoi principali campi di studio e ricerca sono: il recupero e riqualificazione dell'architettura storico-tradizionale del Mediterraneo, il progetto di architettura contemporanea nei contesti storici consolidati e negli ambiti di margine a forte connotazione rurale. Le sue esperienze di ricerca più significative sono legate allo studio dell'architettura di base in Sardegna, alla redazione dei Manuali del recupero dei Centri Storici della Sardegna e dell'antica Casbah di Dellys in Algeria, all'indagine sulle nuove forme di habitat per i margini dei centri abitati delle aree interne della Sardegna. La sua attività di ricerca applicata al progetto si è distinta attraverso numerosi premi e menzioni in concorsi internazionali e nazionali di architettura.

Architecture, Crisis and Resuscitation Jun 12 2021 Studying the relation of architecture to society, this book explains the manner in which the discipline of architecture adjusted itself in order to satisfy new pressures by society. Consequently, it offers an understanding of contemporary conditions and phenomena, ranging from the ubiquity of landmark buildings to the celebrity status of architects. It concerns the period spanning from 1966 to the first years of the current century – a period which saw radical change in economy, politics, and culture and a period in which architecture radically transformed, substituting the alleged dreariness of modernism with spectacle.

Balzac's Shorter Fictions Dec 18 2021 Balzac's reputation is as a novelist. But short stories make up over half La Comédie humaine, besides scores of other tales and articles. Short forms appear early in Balzac's output, and shape his work throughout his career. Balzac's Shorter Fictions looks at the whole of this corpus, at the nature of short fiction, and at how Balzac's novels developed from his stories - at the links between literary genesis and genre. It explores the roles of short fiction in Balzac's creation, its part in producing effects of virtuality and perspective, and reflects ultimately on the relationship between brevity and length in La Comédie humaine. This, the first complete English-language study of Balzac's work for over forty years, synthesizes recent research on Balzac's practice within the context of modern thought on the author. It is an indispensable book for students and scholars of Balzac, and for all those interested in prose fiction.

Nineteenth- and Twentieth-century European Drawings Apr 10 2021

Reviving the Renaissance Oct 24 2019 This book offers an account of neo-Renaissance taste and style in Italy during the second half of the nineteenth century. By the time Italy had developed its obsession with the neo-Renaissance in the 1870s, collectors and scholars in the rest of Europe had been excited by Renaissance taste and style for several decades. In Italy the Renaissance was promptly reconceptualised, in a forced alignment with the accepted historical version of its birth and development, and its help enlisted in the search for an Italian national identity. But what represented this neo-Renaissance in Italy, and what aided its diffusion? In an attempt to answer these questions this book explores the many areas marked by neo-Renaissance taste. It traces its diffusion and development from the institutions which instructed its chief exponents, to architecture and exhibitions and the publications which disseminated neo-Renaissance designs so effectively.

God, Gulliver, and Genocide Aug 22 2019 We are obsessed with 'barbarians'. They are the 'not us', who don't speak our language, or 'any language', whom we depise, fear, invade and kill; for whom we feel compassion, or admiration, and an intense sexual interest; whose innocence or vigour we aspire to, and who have an extraordinary influence on the comportment, and even modes of dress, of our civilised metropolitan lives; whom we often outdo in the barbarism we impute to them; and whose suspected resemblance to us haunts our introspections and imaginings. They come in two overlapping categories, ethnic others and home-grown pariahs: conquered infidels and savages, the Irish, the poor, the Jews. This book looks afresh at how we have confronted the idea of 'barbarism', in ourselves and others, from 1492 to 1945, through the voices of many writers, chiefly Montaigne, Swift and, to a lesser extent, Shaw.

Piranesi and the Modern Age Aug 14 2021 The complex appropriation of Piranesi by modern literature, photography, art, film, and architecture. The etchings of the Italian printmaker, architect, and antiquarian Giovanni Battista Piranesi (1720–78) have long mesmerized viewers. But, as Victor Plahte Tschudi shows, artists and writers of the modern era found in these works—Piranesi's visions of contradictory space, endless vistas, and self-perpetuating architecture—a formulation of the modern. In Piranesi and the Modern Age, Tschudi explores the complex appropriation and continual rediscoveries of Piranesi by modern literature, photography, art, film, and architecture. Tracing the ways that the modern age constructed itself and its origin through Piranesi across genres, he shows, for example, how Piranesi's work formulates the ideas of “contrast” in photography, “abstraction” in painting and “montage” in cinema. Piranesi's modern-day comeback, Tschudi argues, relied on new dimensions found within his work that inspired attempts to inscribe within them a world that was very modern. For more than a century, these interpretations have helped legitimize new forms, theories, technologies, and movements. Tschudi examines, among other things, how Piranesi's disturbing prison interiors—the Carceri—became modern metaphors for the mind; how Alfred H. Barr and the Museum of Modern Art made the case for Piranesi's alleged abstraction in the 1930s; and how Sergei Eisenstein reinvented Piranesi as a progenitor of his own innovative filmmaking techniques. Tschudi's exploration of Piranesi's influence on modern architectural discourse includes interviews with such distinguished architects as Peter Eisenman, Bernard Tschumi, Steven Holl, and Rem Koolhaas. Generously illustrated, Piranesi and the Modern Age offers an entirely new reading of Piranesi's work.

Image, Text, Architecture Feb 08 2021 Image, Text, Architecture brings a radical and detailed analysis of the modern and contemporary architectural media, addressing issues of architectural criticism, architectural photography and the role of journal editors. It covers examples as diverse as an article by British artist Paul Nash in The Architectural Review, 1940, an early project by French architects Lacaton & Vassal published in the journal 2G, 2001, and recent photography by Hisao Suzuki for the Spanish journal El Croquis. At the intersection of image and text the book also reveals the role of the utopian impulse within the architectural media, drawing on theories of utopian discourse from the work of the French semiotician and art theorist Louis Marin, and the American Marxist critic Fredric Jameson. Through this it builds a fresh theoretical approach to journal studies, revealing a hitherto unexplored dimension of "latent" or "unconscious" discourse within the media portrait of architecture. The purpose of this enquiry is to highlight moments where a different type of critical voice emerges on the architectural journal page, indicating the possibility of a more progressive engagement with the media as a platform for critical and speculative thinking about architecture, and to rethink the journals' role within architectural history.
