Diese Arbeit beschreibt die Konzeption, Realisierung und anschließende Bewertung eines Systems zur Umfeldwahrnehmung unter Nutzung eines hochauflösenden Lasersensors. Dessen dichte Punktwolke ist in der Lage, das Umfeld detailliert zu erfassen, stellt jedoch zugleich hohe Anforderungen an die Effizienz der Algorithmen für einen Einsatz unter Echtzeitbedingungen. Ausgehend von einer effizienten Datenindizierung werden Algorithmen zur schrittweisen Abstraktion und Klassifikation der Punktdaten erläutert, beispielsweise zur Klassifikation der

Bodenoberfläche, zur Segmentierung und zur Beweglichkeitsklassifikation. Die Ergebnisse dieses Prozesses bilden die Eingangsdaten für die Repräsentation des Umfelds durch ein hybrides Umfeldmodell. Ein gitterbasierter Ansatz beschreibt hierbei stationäre Anteile in Form einer semantischen Karte. Bewegliche Verkehrsteilnehmer werden durch einen objektbasierten Ansatz auf Grundlage rekursiver Schätzverfahren und unter spezieller Berücksichtigung von Verdeckungen modelliert. Eine abschließende

Echocardiography in the CCU

Apr 07 2021 This book comprehensively reviews the use of echocardiography in the rapidly evolving field of critical care cardiology. Increasingly, cardiac care units (CCU) are focusing on the management of patients with multisystem diseases, advanced hemodynamics compromise, complex ventricular arrhythmias, and established or incipient multi-organ failure. This book covers ultrasound applications in such topics as hemodynamic assessment and the assessment of patients with intracardiac devices.

Syndrome-based echocardiography in the CCU is also covered with an emphasis on using echocardiography in patients with acute dyspnea, acute chest pain and neurologic syndromes. The use of contrast echocardiography in the CCU is also covered.

Echocardiography in the CCU reveals the essential role of various echocardiographic modalities in modern acute cardiovascular care. This is therefore a critical resource for all cardiology practitioners and trainees who use echocardiography in CCUs.

International Aid to Education

Aug 31 2020 Partnerships are now pervasive in global education and development, but are they creating equitable, cooperative, and positive relationships? Through case studies of prominent multistakeholder partnerships—including the Education Cannot Wait Fund and Global Partnership for Education—as well as a comprehensive analysis of the global education network, this book exposes clear power imbalances that persist in the international aid environment. The author reveals how actors and organizations from high-income countries continue to wield disproportionate influence, while the private sector holds a growing degree of authority in public policy circles. In light of such evidence, this book questions if partnerships truly ameliorate power asymmetries, or if they instead reproduce the precise inequities they are meant to eliminate. “The use of partnerships for international aid and development has become ubiquitous, and their value has been too-little questioned. For education, Francine Menashy’s book remedies this with a detailed, probing analysis of such partnerships in theory and practice.” —From the Foreword by Steven J. Klees, University of Maryland

“International Aid to Education is an urgent read for anyone working in international development. Menashy’s work points to ways in which all of us working in research, policy, and practice can rethink our own roles in perpetuating power imbalances and inequities.” —Sarah Dryden-Peterson, Harvard Graduate School of Education “Francine Menashy’s new book provides a fresh and innovative take on power and politics within multistakeholder partnerships in international development. It makes a strong new contribution to the study of global governance and education policy.” —Karen Mundy, chief technical officer, Global Partnership for
